

The Way Ahead Caroline Cardus

Visual Guide

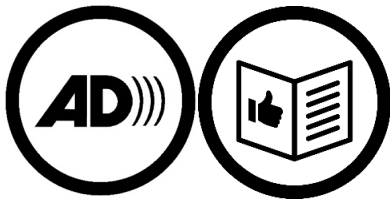

Disability arts protest piece.

20 road signs about Disability rights.

What to Expect

Access:

Click here to hear Caroline Cardus's Digital Audio Description Introduction

Ask a volunteer to tell you about each sign.

Volunteers:

Friendly volunteers are there to help.
They will be wearing pink t-shirts.

About The Way Ahead

No patronising

Disability is not a choice - your attitude is

The signs are about the inequality D/deaf, disabled and neurodivergent people experience.

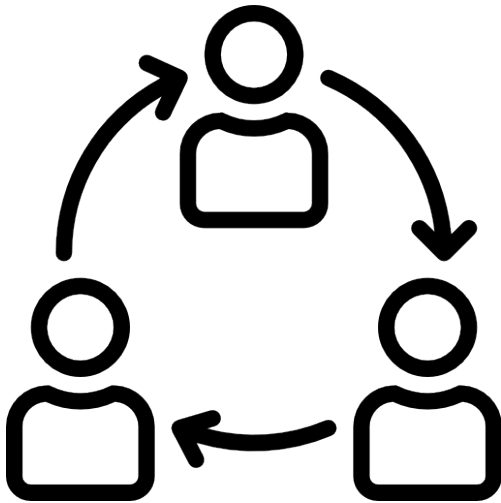

<https://festival.org/gdif/whats-on/the-way-ahead/>

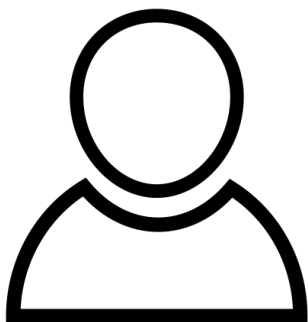

To celebrate us becoming the first UK festival to be awarded Platinum standard for access-

Caroline has made 10 new signs.

These call for courage, power and hope for disabled people in the UK.

Some designs have been created as a collaboration between Caroline and other disabled people.

Some Caroline designed alone.

About the signs

The signs are based on UK road signs.

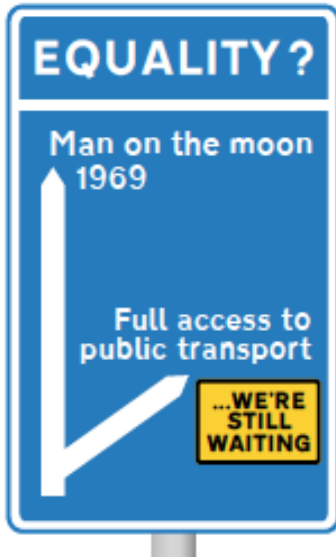

Like on the roads red triangular signs give warnings.

Blue circular signs give instructions about what you must do.

Blue rectangular signs give directions.
Usually used on motorways.

Red circular signs- giving orders about what you must not do.

About Caroline Cardus

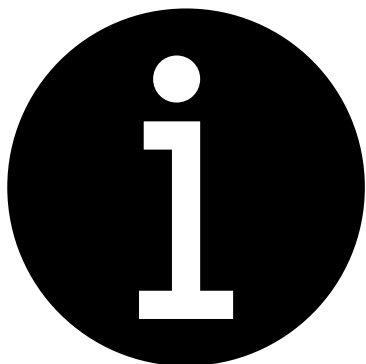

Caroline is a Disabled artist working in the Disability arts movement.

<https://festival.org/gdif/whats-on/the-way-ahead/>

Find out more

Northern born Caroline Cardus is an artist activist in the Disability Arts Movement

Text and narrative is an important part of Cardus' work, which is often about distilling an idea down to its simplest form.

Cardus works collaboratively as well as individually to tell stories of lived experience from disability and feminist perspectives.

<https://www.carolinecardusartist.com/bio>

Contact GDIF:

Email: access@festival.org

Call or text: 07899 893 935

<https://festival.org/gdif/whats-on/the-way-ahead/>